AN EXCITING CONTEST.

Roger Connor's Timely Hit Saves a Game for the New Yorkers-Denny's Great Play. The final series between the Indianapolis and New York bail teams opened yesterday afternoon at the League Park, and the visitors won the first game, after a hard fight. In many respects the contest was one of the best seen on the local grounds this season, and that the Hoosiers did not win was wholly due to the superlority of Keefe over Boyle. The home team fielded better, ran bases better, and did better work generally outside the box, and should have won the game. Boyle was not hit much harder than Keefe, but he allowed the visitors to bunch their hits, and the contest was lost on that account. Twice the Hoosiers had what appeared to be a safe lead, but, in each case, the Giants found the ball and knocked out enough hits to tie the game. Seven of the eleven hits made off Boyle were made in the first and sixth innings, three in the former and four in the latter. The Giants bunched a single, a double and a home run in the eighth, which, with a base on balls, allowed the visitors to send three men across the plate. The home team played brilliantly from the start, and had Boyle been able to keep the hits scattered the victory would have been an easy one for the local men. Denny, Glasscock and Bassett put up a great game. The first named made the most remarkable play that has been seen on the home play that has been seen on the home grounds this season. Hines, Glasscock and Baltimore, 6; Athletics, 6. Batteries—Kilroy and Tate; McMahon and Robinson. Umpire— McGeachy led at the bat for the home team, while Tiernan, Connor and O'Rourke did the best work for their side. The local men commenced to score in the first inning, and increased their lead in the second. Hines led off with a scratch hit, and went to second on Seery's out. He then stole third in good style, and came home on a sacrifice by Andrews. In their half of the same inning the Giants took the lead on singles by Gore and Tiernan, two sacrifice hits and O'Rourke's safe drive. In the second the Hoosiers again took the lead. Glasswock was given first on balls and stole second; a passed ball sent him to third. Daily struck out, but McGeachy hit safe and the Captain came home. Bassett got his base on balls, and he and McGeachy advanced a base on a passed ball, both scoring on a two-bagger by Boyle. In the following three innings the Hoosiers went out in order, but in the sixth they scored twice and it looked like a victory for the local men. Whitney fumbled Denny's grounder and Glasscock made a hit. The New York third-baseman made another fumble which allowed Daily to reach first and fill the bases. Andrews had previously struck out. McGeachy picked out a good one and drove it to the fence for two bases. sending Denny and Glasscock home. With Daily on third and McGeachy on second, Bassett struck out and Boyle gave Richardson an easy fly.

Boyla weakened in the second half of the inning, however, and the visitors tied the score. Tiernan and Ward hit safely, were advanced a base each on Richardson's out, and came across the plate on Conner's hit. O'Rourke followed with a double. A wild pitch sent Conner home and Daily's wild throw allowed O'Rourke to come over the plate. Both sides were blanked in the next inning, but in the eighth the home team took the lead once more, three men making commenced to score in the first inning, and inning, but in the eighth the home team took the lead once more, three men making the circuit. Glasscock made a safe hit and went to second when Daily got first on balls. McGeachy hit to Richardson and Daily was caught at the plate. Bassett's grounder was first fumbled and then thrown wild by Ward, and two men came home, the batter going to second, from where he scored on a hit by Hines. Again the visitors went to work and tied the score. Richardson made a home run, Conner got his base on balls, and O'Rourke hit for two bases. Ewing's out scored Conner, and Whitney's hit let O'Rourke over the plate. The Hoosiers were blanked in the ninth. Tiernan led off with a hit, and two outs sent him to third. Two strikes had been called on Conner when he hit to center for two bases, but as the ball was not returned, he made the circuit and was credited with a home run under the rulings. Score: inning, but in the eighth the home team

THE BASE-BALL ROORBACK.

Those Who Ought to Know Deny All Knowledge of the Reported Players' Combine. The sensational stories about the intentions of the Brotherhood of Base-ball-players to cut loose from the National League and he gave. All the testimony was as to conduct the business next season on their own hook has given the base-ball cranks something to talk about, at least, if nothing more ever comes of them, and the press of the country is devoting columns of valuable space to their discussion. The wires of the Associated Press were burdened with gossip from all the League cities yesterday and last night, and every one who is even suspected of having any knowledge of the projected combine has been interviewed at combine?" "No. Why should anyone believe them? It is a together improbable that the players would go into any such a scheme without having first attempted to reach an adjustment of their differences with the League, if differences exist. I personally know that the talk about their having secured the old Polo grounds or any other grounds in New York is absolutely without foundation, and that the men whose names are given as being interested parties to the scheme have nothing what ever to do with it. The success of such a scheme could not be attained without the greatest of difficulty, and in fact could not be accomplished at all. There is nothing in the thing at all. The papers have been imposed upon in my judgment." President Brush was equally emphatic in his expressions of disbelief. but did not care to ful shape. Alcryon was at the pole,

Jack Glasscock, of the Indianapolis club, was seen at the Occidental last night, but he was somewhat reticient in expressing his opinion regarding the scheme. "I have read most of the articles that have ap-peared on the subject," he said, "but I am not inclined to put any credence in them. This scheme is too absurd to be looked upon with any degree of belief. It is impracticable, and, I might almost say, impossible at the present time.'

"Have you seen the reference to your action in New York as published in the Chicago Herald?" "No: I have not."

"The Herald says, in substance, that Al Johnson went to New York to sign a pledge for the members, but that you and Denny refused to sign. At your hesitancy, the article says, Buck Ewing began to denounce you, and thereupon you and Denny signed."
"Well, if the Herald says that it is away off the track. It is all false, for no sucl scene as that ever took place.'

"Did you and Denny sign?"
"No, we did not. I can't see why in the world we would want to sign, anyhow. The whole thing is simply a lot of stuff trumped up by Eastern newspapers, in which there is no truth. At least, that is my opinion."

John M. Ward, short-stop for the New York club, had but little to say. He is also president of the Brotherhood. "As the matter stands," he said, "it would seem to appear that there is a rupture between the Brotherhood and the League. I have no faith in the story that the Brotherhood has gone off on an independent action of its own. There are, I will say, differences ex-isting between the Brotherhood and the League, but they are not such as would bring about the state of affairs that is now going the rounds of the papers."

"What is the nature of these differences?" "Well, they are of a nature of which I do not now care to speak. But this much I will say: Those differences will come up for settlement in November, at the League meeting, but we all look for an amicable settlement. They are in such a shape that everything will be adjusted, I hope, without any great disturbance."

James Mutrie, manager of the New Yorks, was seen at the Grand. "I havn't read to be length behind, and the others were on even terms. Alcryon broke badly at the turn, and Nelson went ahead rapidly. The gray recovered quickly, however, and at the half was lapped with the Maine horse. Inch by inch he gained, until only a half length separated them at the three-quarters. Alcryon broke again, and Nelson walked away from him. He had the stretch to himself. Alcryon fell behind, and the was seen at the Grand. "I havn't read much about the scheme, and I have hardly given it a moment's thought.

"You do not believe in it, then?"
"Believe in it? Why, how could I? All that talk about the Brotherhood leasing the Polo grounds, is the worst of humbug. If, as the papers say, the Brotherhood is to pay $30,000 for those grounds and run a club besides, what is to be done with the rest of the players—1,500 in number, for inrest of the players—1,500 in number, for instance. A Minneapolis dispatch says that overtures have been made to several of the crack players of the Western Association by members of the Brotherhood to join the Co-operative League. Duke, Hengle and Foster, of Minneapolis; Nichols, Clark and Nagle, of Omaha; Widner, of St. Joe; Burdick, Crotty and Powell, of Sioux City, are among those mentioned. The Minneapolis players do not deny having received offers, but have not yet accepted. The managers do not think anything will result.

Considering the legal aspect of the rights of reserved players to play with clubs other than those reserving them. John I. Rogers, secretary of the Philadelphia Base-ball Club, yesterday sent to the presidents of the League clubs his legal opinion that Sec. 18 of the contract now in force between League clubs and their players, and which is known as the "Brotherhood contract," having been formulated and prepared by that body and accepted by the League, expressly secures to each League club the absolute right to its players' services for the season of 1890.

An Associated Press dispatch from Cleveland says: The officials of the Cleveland Base-ball Club were somewhat excited today when they learned the details of the plan adopted by the Brotherhood. The first thing they did was to hold a consultation. To-night they say they will be represented in the League next year come what may. No member of the club has complained to them, and if any player has a grievance all he has to do is to mention it, and justice will be done him.

L. A. Russell, attorney for Al Johnson, the local capitalist behind the proposed Brotherhood lorganization, when asked today if he had drawn the necessary papers, declined to say a word, save that he could not talk, but would later on. Catcher declined to say a word, save that he could not talk, but would later on. Catcher Zimmer denies that he has subscribed for stock in the new organization, and other members of the Cleveland team declare that they do not know anything about the new movement. Al Johnson, even, does the same, but his lawyer, one of the most prominent members of the Cleveland bar, says that he will talk later on, which shows that he, at least, knows something about the enterprise. The Philadelphians, who are here, claim to know all about the scheme, but will not give out any information. They also refuse to commit themselves, and decline to say whether they will remain in the League if the concessions they ask for are granted. The Cieveland players evidently are not into the secret, and the best men among them are emphatic in saying as much.

St. Louis-Brooklyn Row Compromised.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 23. - At the Grand Hotel this morning all the clubs of the American Base-ball Association were represented at a meeting of the directors to act on the question in dispute between the St. Louis and Brooklyn clubs in the forfeited games of Sept. 7 and 8. The board of directors continued in session all day and evening, with short recesses for meals. The game of Sept. 7 was passed upon first, after hearing statements from Mr. Von der Ahe and Captain Comiskey, of the St Louis club, and the reading of the affidavits of Milligan, McCarthy and Chamberlin, of the St. Louis. Mr. Byrne, of Brooklyn, presented the affidavits of Umpire Fred Goldsmith, of all the Brooklyn players and of representatives of the New York press present at the games in question, also of telegraph operators. The point to be decided was whether Umpire Goldsmith was warranted in the decisions whether it was light enough to proceed with the game on the 7th. Before a decision was pronounced in this case, the Sunday game of Sept. 8 was taken up—the one in which the St. Louis club is charged with having refused to go to Ridgewood Park to play. Both sides offered much testimony. That of St. Louis was their fear of violence from the crowd. Against this Mr. Byrne's affidavit was presented that Mr. Von der Ahe agreed to play, provided the forfeited game of the day before should be played off. After a long consultation the board decided upon a sort of compromise, awarding Saturday's game to the St. Louis club, and remitting the fine on the ground that umpire Goldsmith's decision was wrong. As to the Sunday game the board gave that to the Brooklyn club—9 to 0—and imposed a fine of $1,500 on the St. Louis club for failing to appear at Ridgewood Park. The directors recommended that the services of Fred Goldsmith as umpire be discontinued.

The Association met this evening, completed its business, and at 11 o'clock adjourned, thus avoiding the necessity of a meeting to-morrow. The Association ratified the action of the board of directors in the St. Louis and Brooklyn cases, which makes that decision irrevocable. with the game on the 7th. Before

GREAT STALLION RACE.

The Balch Stake for $10,000 Won by Nelson in Three Straight Heats. BEACON PARK. Sept. 23 .- The great stallion race for the Balch stake of $10,000 was trotted to-day before fifteen thousand persons. The weather was perfect, and the track was in very good condition for fast time. Nelson and Alcryon were greeted with long-continued applause when they appeared. The betting just before the race was $100 to $50 on Nelson against Alcryon, and $15 and $16 against the field. At the last moment Mr. Nelson, the owner of the Maine stallion, decided to hold the reins Pilot Knox second, Nelson third, Granby fourth and Junemont on the outside. Within thirty yards of the wire Alcryon broke and an excellent start was spoiled. They tried it again and again, and after scoring seven times they rested awhile. The crowd yelled impatiently at the delay.

First Heat—At the tenth attempt they got the word to a fair start, with Alcryon leading. Nelson was after him like a shot. and at the quarter was on even terms with the gray. Then Alcryon broke and Nelson took the lead, holding it around the track and winning the first heat by two lengths in 2:1812; Pilot Knox was third, Junemont fourth and Granby last. Second Heat—The horses had a splendid start for the second heat. All were abreast when the word was given. Nelson held the pole in spite of Aleryon's game efforts to head him, and at the quarter he drew away until a length opened up between his wheel and Aleryon's nose. Junemont made a dash past Pilot Knox, capturing third place, and put in a strong bid for second position. At the half Alcryon shook Junemont off and began to close on Nelson. He succeeded so well that at the threequarters has nose was even with Mr. Nelson's seat. Nelson did not waver or seem to increase his speed, but Alcryon could not get any nearer. At the head of the stretch he broke and lost two lengths, giving Nel-son the heat by that distance, in 2:174. Alcryon was second, Junemont third, Pilot Knox fourth, Granby last.

Third Heat-At 4 o'clock the stallions were called out for the third heat. There was great enthusiasm when they appeared on the track. They scored four times, and then took a rest. They scored several more times before they were off. Junemont was two length behind, and the others were on walked away from him. He had the stretch to himself. Alcryon fell behind, and the field closed around him. It was a fight for place, Nelson nearly distancing the field.
Alcryon continued to break, and Pilot Knox finished second, with Junement third and Granby fourth. Alcryon was last. The crowd cheered wildly, and flowers were showered upon Nelson. A florat collar was placed around his neck, and a wreath and whip were given to Mr. Nelson. The crowd broke into the track and cheered

The American Commonwealth. A new class is being formed in connection with the useful and progressive Plymouth Institute of this city. It is for the study of constitutional history, which will be undertaken in a thorough and conscientious manner. The first book to be taken up and studied will be Professor Bryce's American Commonwealth, published last winter and since so favorably received. The institute has been fortunate in securing the services, as leader, of Hon. W. P. Fishback, a gentleman eminently qualified to direct the consideration of so large and important a subject. The class necessarily appeals to advanced students and thinkers interested in the great principles which underlie our Constitution, and to those graver perils which threaten its existence. The session will consist of an introductory and ten regular meetings, held every alternate Wednesday, commencing about the middle of October. The fee for the entire course has been placed at the nominal sum of $2.50. The Bowen-Merrill Company will supply the text-books at reduced rates to the members of the class. Applications for membership must be made at the secretary's office, Plymouth Institute. winter and since so favorably received. The

I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sar-saparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether.
The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."-D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wiggs, Arkansas.
